March Artist of the Month: Julie Thoreson

Julie says,

“When I was asked if I wanted to take a colored pencil class, I wondered what pencils could offer that paint or watercolor could not. Having no formal art training, except for a few classes in watercolor and some drawing inside a large paper bag, I thought ‘why not’.

Now, ten years later, I am still taking colored pencil classes and have dabbled in watercolor again, and tried calligraphy, scratchboard, stippling and finger painting!

What great fun I have had, and how much I have learned. I didn’t know there are so many different colors of green!

I plan to continue learning and making beautiful things.”

“She believed she could so she did.”
