GALLERY K Featured Item of the Month: CARDS BY JOHN DEJARNATT

This month you can find new note cards by our favorite photographer, John DeJarnatt. Beautiful photos taken by John have been made into lovely notecards for sending to friends and family. Check them out and you will want to purchase several.

ARTIST OF THE MONTH: CHUCK DURST

Chuck says: To summarize myself, one must realize that I have been blessed and supported for 74 years by friends and family to express myself through illustrating. What little talent I have began when my cousin, Wildaray Cunningham, tried to keep a restless young man quiet in church by giving him paper and pencil. Since then, I've had an insatiable appetite for trying to understand and improve how I can see something, process that information, and express it in an illustration.

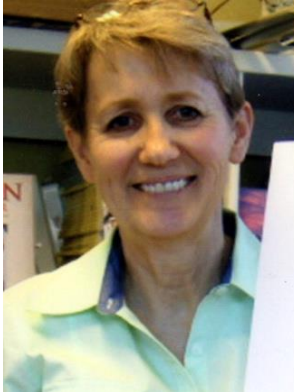

I just love illustrating and all the aspects associated with it. I am a detail-oriented person who is easily intrigued by the beauty of life, any object, and how it works. Although I have attended public and private art schools, most of my development has come from reading many books and the support of my association with the Colored Pencil Society of America, the Keizer Art Association and the Oregon Society of Artists.

I've been greatly influenced by my father's riding and racing of motorcycles and by my experiences as an aircraft mechanic in the United States Air Force. Living in Oregon has shown me the beauties of life and inspired me by the amazing number of talented people.

May 12, 26, June 2, 9, 23 - BASIC DRAWING CLASS taught by KATHY HANEY. Think you can't draw? Want to improve your drawing skills? Would you like to sketch images as you travel? Do you want to improve your painting, printmaking and sculpture skills? If so, this is the class for you. If you can write, you can draw. Drawing is the basic form of expression that we have used since caveman days. As children we drew images to share stories and ideas. We used simple symbols to represent the images and ideas. At some point, most people become frustrated that these symbols are limited and want to draw more lifelike images. Having already developed the necessary dexterity skills, the task is to learn to "see" in a more objective way. Learning to "see" is the focus of this class. This class will build on the skills you already have - even if you think you have none. You will learn various types of drawing: imaginary, gesture, contour, value and perspective drawings. We will use various drawing tools: graphite, charcoal, conte crayon, felt pen and pen and ink.

Supply List: a 9"x12" sketchbook, a couple of pencils with a range of softness (B means soft and H means hard), a 4B, 2B, and 2H is fine to start with. Staedlers make a good set of drawing pencils, a couple of erasers - art gum, kneaded and vinyl make a good selection, a drawing board about 18" x 24", a rigid piece of plexiglass, plywood or foam core board will work. You can purchase a "gatorboard" that is like foam core board but is also water resistant so can be used for watercolor, too, an 18" metal ruler, a hand pencil sharpener, a water based felt pen, a fine point Sharpie and an ultra fine point Sharpie (permanent), a Crow Quill ink pen and a bottle of India ink. Kathy has, in the past, found drawing kits at both Michael's and Craft Warehouse that include a variety of pencils, erasers, and sharpeners for a reasonable price. Kathy will provide drawing paper for class activities, charcoal and conte crayons. Saturdays, 9:30-12:30, $150/5 classes.
